

FEBRUARY 2026

WINEMAKING AT LYNFRED WINERY

CELLAR REPORT

CRANBERRY

The first wine we bottled this month is a true seasonal favorite: our Cranberry wine.

Cranberries are among the most distinctive fruits in the world. Native to North America, they grow on low-running vines in sandy bogs and marshes. While most are harvested in the Northeast, they also thrive in regions such as Wisconsin and the Pacific Northwest.

Our Lynfred Cranberry wine, crafted over nearly two months of careful fermentation, bursts with bright, untamed acidity and delivers a lively, mouth-watering freshness. It is a seasonal classic with a vibrant personality.

TANNAT 2023

During the first weeks of this short February, we bottled another exceptional wine for our club members: Tannat 2023.

Originally from France, Tannat has found new life across the Americas, especially in Uruguay, Argentina, and the United States. After aging for 24 months in American oak barrels, our 2023 vintage has developed a bold, powerful structure while embracing the smooth, expressive style associated with California winemaking. Its deep color and beautifully layered flavors reflect both the grape's natural intensity and the elegance gained through extended aging.

Crafted as a 100% Tannat, this wine showcases the variety in its purest form: rich, expressive, and naturally refined.

Our Lynfred Winery Tannat 2023 is made from grapes grown in the heart of Clarksburg, California, and will be released exclusively to our club members on May 1, 2026.

BLUEBERRY

Shortly after bottling the Tannat, we bottled a fresh batch of our popular Blueberry Wine.

Crafted exclusively from hand-selected, fresh blueberries, this dessert wine captures the full depth and richness of perfectly ripe fruit. Fermented with the same care and technique we use for our grape wines, it offers concentrated aromas and a vibrant, expressive flavor profile.

Discover the distinctive character of our Lynfred Blueberry Wine: lush, flavorful, and crafted with heart.

VIN DE CITY RED

At the end of February, we bottled another batch of Vin de City Red.

Vin de City Red is a vibrant, easy-drinking wine created for everyday enjoyment. Meaning “My Kind of Wine,” it is our playful tribute to the Windy City, blending approachable flavor with a touch of Chicago spirit. Smooth, versatile, and crowd-pleasing, it is the kind of bottle that fits any occasion, from weeknight dinners to casual gatherings with friends.

Cheers to a hometown favorite that always brings a little Chicago warmth to the table.

Cheers, Rodrigo
