

APRIL 2026

Head Winemaker
RODRIGO GONZALEZ

Cellar Report | April 2026

Lynfred Late-Harvest Zinfandel 2025

April marked the bottling of our Late-Harvest Zinfandel, sourced from the warm, sun-driven vineyards of Lodi, California. In the glass, it shows a deep, commanding color, with aromas of violet, ripe plum, sweet raisin, and a restrained note of vanilla.

The palate is rich and deliberate, offering a firm structure beneath its natural sweetness. Layers of stewed plum, dried berries, and baking spice unfold over a smooth, weighty texture. A subtle herbal lift on the finish keeps the wine focused and balanced, giving it both depth and precision. This is a bold, dessert-style Zinfandel with presence and control.

It will be available in 750 ml bottles, along with a limited run of 375 ml splits for those who prefer a smaller pour.

Lynfred Grenache–Syrah 2023

At the close of the month, we bottled our 2023 Grenache–Syrah blend. This wine opens with clear, lifted aromatics of red berry and raspberry, supported by notes of violet, white pepper, and a measured touch of spice.

On the palate, Grenache drives the wine forward with bright red fruit and a round, approachable texture, while Syrah provides structure, darker fruit, and a subtle savory backbone. The tannins are fine but present, and the acidity keeps everything in line. The finish is long and composed, with hints of spice, dried herbs, and a trace of cocoa.

This Rhône-style blend is balanced and confident, showing both energy and depth without excess.

This wine will be available exclusively to Wine Club Members beginning August 1, 2026.

Fresh Updates Behind the Scenes

April also brought steady work beyond the glass. The Lynfred team focused on refining the barrel room, event spaces, and cellar floors. It was hands-on, detailed work, and the result is a cleaner, sharper, more polished environment throughout.

Ready for what comes next.

Cheers,

Rodrigo

Our new cellar sign modeled by Rodrigo & also Bianca, Andres' pup.

New floors!