Our History

Lynfred Winery stands as Illinois' oldest and largest continuously operating family winery, founded in 1979 by Lynn and Fred Koehler. Today, it crafts more than 70 varietals and over 30,000 cases of wine each year. From its earliest days, Lynfred has welcomed guests with exceptional vintages, thoughtful hospitality, and luxurious lodging, earning its place as one of the Chicago area's most distinctive destinations.

There is an unmistakable charm to Lynfred. A turn down the cobblestone drive feels like stepping into something timeless. The setting is warm, nostalgic, and quietly enchanting, drawing in visitors, neighbors, and wine lovers alike. It is not simply a visit, it is an experience. A moment to slow down, savor, and live the Lynfred lifestyle.

At the heart of every bottle are Chilean-born winemakers Andres Basso and Rodrigo Gonzalez, whose expertise and passion guide each vintage. As an urban winery, Lynfred sources premium fruit from renowned vineyards in Washington, California, Illinois, Michigan, and Chile. With a philosophy rooted in gentle handling and minimal intervention, the focus remains where it belongs: on the integrity of the fruit. The result is a portfolio of wines that is both expansive and refined, a rarity in the Midwest, and a true reflection of Lynfred's dedication to craftsmanship and excellence.
